

(what's)the big idea(?):

get certified

The clearest and most responsible way for a psychologist to represent herself/himself to the public, third-parties, and the profession as a specialist is to be certified through an organized peer process as meeting the standards and demonstrating the competencies required in the specialty. ABPP is the only non-profit professional unitary organization with multiple specialty board quality controls recognized by the profession as certifying specialty practitioners in psychology.

1 apply

initiate an application for ABPP board certification by submitting the materials to the central office

2 generic credentials review the ABPP central office ensures that you have met all the generic criteria and have the appropriate licensure for certification

3 specialty credentials review the application is sent to the appropriate specialty board to ensure that your credentials meet all the specialty-specific criteria for your chosen specialty

4 practice samples

submit practice samples representative of your work and competency

*please note that the forensic and clinical neuropsychology boards require a written exam at this point

5 oral exam

sit for an oral exam with examiners in your chosen specialty

6 get certified

join the ranks of many of your colleagues as board certified through ABPP, and display your diploma with pride many settings provide for salary increases and advancement if ABPP certified
